SKOPJE • MACEDONIA

Embassy hosts U.S. Elections breakfast

The Embassy hosted an early morning viewing of the 2012 Presidential Election Results on Wednesday November 7, at the Aleksandar Palace Hotel in Skopje. The breakfast event included live voting results by state, televised campaign footage, debates, political analysis, and featured Saturday Night Live comedy sketches spanning the many months of the Presidential race. Information publications and online resources on the U.S. election process were also available for press covering the event. Ambassador Wohlers gave remarks on the election following Governor Romney's concession speech and President Obama's victory speech. Over 500 representatives of the Macedonian Government, municipalities, public and religious institutions, along with members of the NGO, academic, business, media, and international communities, were invited to share this very special day in U.S. politics.
